

A writing activity from

Grimm & Co

Grimm Good News

You will need:

- The ability to watch and listen to the activity instructions (these have been recorded, so you'll need to be able to listen to them through a computer or phone, or through headphones and you'll need a screen to see each step of the process)
- Something to write with (this could be paper and a pen or a laptop/computer/tablet)
- Something to record yourself with (optional)

Step one: Think of all the good things you have experienced in the past week. Write them down in a list. Focus on two of these to investigate further by writing down the details of what made it a positive experience. Was anyone else involved? Maybe interview them and get their interpretation too.

Step two: You are going to create a news report all about the good things that have happened to you in the past week. These can be really small things (e.g. I had a great dream about an octopus who turned into a superhero) or it could be more significant (e.g. reporting about what your community are doing to help each other).

Step three: Write out your news report first, so you know exactly what you're going to say. Then record it! (You don't have to record it if you don't want to).

Step four: Alternatively, you could create a news report all about the positive news that's going on in the magical realm! Share stories about how the witches and wizards are getting on? Are the fairies making any contact with humans? How are the trolls getting access to their favourite dessert...(Human Snot)????

Step five: Share your writing with us! Do this by taking a photo of your writing, typing up your work, or sending us the recording of your news report!

If you're a member of one of our out-of-school writing groups, you should then upload your work to your Seesaw journal.

If you're accessing this activity independently, or through your school, we'd still love to share in the amazing writing you've created! You can post your work on social media, tagging us @GrimmAndCo, or email your work to grimmapothecary@gmail.com. Happy writing!
